HAIL KIWANIS
This evening the Bismarck Kiwanis club will receive its charter and a most progressive organization will be formally inducted into a world wide association of good, useful fellows whose chief aim is service and the inculcation of better business and professional ethics.

This edition of The Tribune is devoted largely to Kiwanians. Through their cooperation it has been made possible and it is issued to do them special honor as befits their inaugural into a great association. Although the Kiwanis organization has been functioning here for several weeks, it actually becomes a part of international Kiwanis this evening.

The event is not solely important for individual members, but for Bismarck also for this organization is dedicated to civic service of the highest type. The Capital City is a better place to live and do business in by reason of the Kiwanis. It means another driving force on the side of better citizenship—men of the highest type putting into practice the golden rule in business and private life.

Visiting Kiwanians are welcome and Bismarck is honored by their presence here today to see that this city is fittingly put on the Kiwanian map.

Hail Kiwanians and good luck!

WHO DELIVERED NORTH DAKOTA?

Richard Barry writing in the New York Times recently states that North Dakota has been committed to Coolidge "either officially through state chairmen or unofficially through spokesmen recognized as practically authoritative."

With North Dakota are listed the following states as in the Coolidge column officially through state chairmen or unofficially through spokesmen: Arizona, Colorado, Delaware, Kansas, Missouri, Nevada, New Mexico, New York, Oklahoma, Texas, Utah, Wyoming, Alaska, District of Columbia, Porto Rico, Hawaii, Philippine Islands. These groups have the impressive total of 277 votes in the national convention.

Just what basis there is for the fact that North Dakota will be found in the Coolidge column is not given. The writer doubtless has failed to ascertain that there is a presidential primary and the state probably will go through the formality of endorsing some candidate who enters the primaries.

Coolidge may refrain as did Harding from entering state presidential primaries relying upon the ability of his field leaders to deliver at Chicago.

North Dakota has instructed in the past for La Follette and Hiram Johnson, but when the final bandwagon rush came, a majority usually went in for the winner as the law is most flexible under which delegates go instructed.

It is too early now, however, to say finally just what any state will do in the presidential race. Coolidge has made an excellent impression to date, but sentiment has not crystallized and will not until a few weeks before the convention.

THRILLERS

Do you remember the old-time blood and thunder novels about the exploits of Deadwood Dick, Frank Merriwell, Young and Old King Brady, Nick Carter, Fred Fearnot and the Liberty Boys of '76?

Dr. Frank P. O'Brien spent 26 years rounding up the largest collection of these thrillers in existence. He has 2000 different specimens, and these recently have been triumphantly touring the country, on exhibition in various cities. They'll probably be preserved as historical relics in the library of Leland Stanford University.

Historical relics? Decidedly. The nickel novels, with their famous colored covers, thrilled the American youth (and more grownups than would admit it) from 1860 until about 1910, when the movies began putting the paper-backs out of business.

The height of devilry, for a boy in the old days, was to "hang around" a lively stable, read nickel novels and smoke tubs. A lad who read nickel novels was supposed to be going to the dogs. Yet, now that we have a little perspective, the nickel thriller has become respectable.

It was morally clean. That was the inexorable rule of nearly all the thriller publishers, from Beadle on.

Virtue always triumphed and the villain was punished. "Big stakes, desperate chances and the feller gets th' gal"—his was the formula.

The sophisticated youth of our jazz generation would oar with laughter if he read the old-time nickel thrillers. Youth's heroes now are the Jules Verne sort, using radio and airplane where a former generation's fiction heroes used horse and buggy and a phone that had to be cranked to get Central. . . . Later comes jazz and sex fiction, disreputable successor of Nick Carter and The Dude Desperado.

ENDURANCE TEST

In a 200-mile race, an Arabian horse is outdistanced by George Cummings, English professional walker. Cummings is 50 years old. The horse easily left him far in the rear—at the start. But when it came to long distance—endurance—the man was victorious.

In life the ability to plod along doggedly, without becoming discouraged at temporary setbacks, is worth more than natural brilliance that tires easily. Exceptional ability rarely is capable of sustained effort. That's why near-constant effort is a flash in the pan.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have before them important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

THE OPPORTUNITY AWAITS.

Slope farmers have for years awaited a heavy fall precipitation in order that they might rush plowing operations and relieve the congestion of farm work during the short spring season when there is always so much to be done before planting.

For the first time in years the opportunity to push fall plowing awaits them. The heavy rains of the past two weeks have put the ground in splendid condition. Many farmers who have finished threshing have been in the fields for several days and great black stretches of soil are being turned over. Others will be at work in the fields within a short time.

All we need now is a few weeks of favorable weather and there will be more fall plowing done on the Slope than during any other year in its agricultural history. Plowing done in the fall is not only more beneficial to the soil and increases its fertility but the time saved permits farmers to prepare the ground more thoroughly and plant with greater care in the spring. The opportunity to make every moment during the fall months count awaits Slope farmers and the wise ones are hastening to take advantage of it.—Dickinson Press.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

All day long Farmer Brown had been out plowing.

"Geel! Haw! Giddap!" the Twins could hear him saying every now and then to his horses. "Geel! Haw! Giddap!"

"What are they doing?" asked Nancy.

"They are plowing the field to put in wheat," answered Mister Dodger. "It grows some this fall, then it stays green under the snow all winter, and when spring comes it finishes growing. That's what they call winter wheat."

"Giddap!" came Farmer Brown's voice across the fence again, and from where they stood, the children could see Charlie and Bob, the two nice big farm horses, doing their best to please their master and earn the bucket of oats they knew was waiting for them.

Suddenly there was another sound. It went chug, chug, chug. Rattle, rattle, rattle, chug! "What's that?" asked Nick. Really, the Twins must have thought that Mister Dodger was the dictionary from the number of questions they asked him.

But, as usual, he knew the answer for he had quickly, "That's a tractor! Farmer Smith, on the next farm, does not use horses for his farm work any more. He does all his plowing and cutting and binding by an automobile machine called a tractor. Come on! Do you want to see it?"

Of course, the Twins were eager to go. They went over to a fence corner, where they could watch both fields.

And whether it was because they had magic shoes or because they had a fairman for company, I cannot say, but they soon discovered that the tractor was talking. Every "chug" was a word, and it was calling things to Charlie and Bob, the nice big brown farm horses. "Goodness alive! How slow you are!" it said. "Why you started two hours before I did and I've really done twice as much as you have! There! I've been the whole way around the field again! Why, I'll be through and home again before you're half way."

It went on boasting and blowing like that but Charlie and Bob just trudged ahead without so much as a word. They were there to work, not to quarrel, and they tried hard to please.

"It's a shame!" declared Nancy. "That mean old tractor machine ought to be taught a lesson."

"Never mind," said Mister Dodger. "Pride goeth before a fall. Wait and see."

That evening when Charlie and Bob were munching their oats, the Twins heard Farmer Smith call over to Farmer Brown. "Hey, neighbor, my tractor broke down before I had my wheat field finished and it can't be fixed for a week. Will you please lend me your team tomorrow?"

"Sure!" said Farmer Brown obligingly. "Mine's all finished."

The Twins never could be sure, but Mister Dodger said it was a fact that Bob winked solemnly at Charlie and Charlie winked back just as solemnly at Bob.

A Thought

The mouth of the righteous man is a well of life; but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked.—Prov. 10:11.

The measure of any man's virtue is what he would do if he had neither the laws nor public opinion, nor even his own pre-udices, to control him.—Hazlitt.

ORGANIZE SHIPPING BODY

County Agent Vancura held a meeting at Hamburg last Monday, with the result that Julius Affeldt, Anton Ellington, W. W. Burcham, Carl Buechler and S. C. Steenroden were appointed as a committee to get members for the Hamburg Farmers Livestock Shipping Association. The plan is being organized on the county-wide basis. A meeting will be held in the very near future and a permanent organization will be formed.

BROKER RUNS AWAY WITH AC-TRESS

Number of Leading Citizens Left Holding The Bag

Harry Ellington, the well-known broker, is missing, and with him has gone Edith Chapman, it was learned this morning.

Ellington has been flying high for a number of months and there were many surmises and prophecies as to his finish. It was well known that Ellington was buying Lackawanna Steel large blocks for his clients and yesterday, when the stock reached the highest point it has in years, a number of his patrons telephoned and telegraphed him to sell.

Last night around the club many men were talking of the killing they had made that day but from recent developments it looks as though Ellington was the only man who made the killing.

Frantic calls at his office only elicited the fact that Mr. Ellington was out of town for an indefinite period, and nothing could be done in the way of business until he returned.

Harry Ellington has been a man about town for a number of years and at first stood very well in the community as a stock broker. Late-ly, however, sinister whispers have been going around about him. Although he has a beautiful wife, he has been seen at all the best restaurants and hotels lately with a minor moving picture actress called Edith Chapman. It is learned that he was also a large holder of stocks that have steadily been dropping for a month.

The more conservative men withdrew their accounts from him months ago but some of his friends have stood by him and these have lost a great deal of money by their confidence in him.

At this time it cannot be ascertained just who were the losers and how much money has been lost by Ellington's defection but that it will amount to nearly a half million dollars is the most conservative estimate.

Mrs. Ellington could not be seen this morning, whoever answered the telephone saying she was prostrated by the news.

Mr. John Alden Prescott, who has been one of Ellington's staunchest friends, also could not be reached. Mrs. Prescott informed a reporter over the telephone that her husband had been killed by his mother's bedside by her sudden illness.

Mr. Bullock, of the Acme Advertising Company, said he was sure, however, that Mr. Prescott had lost nothing in the crash as he had made it very plain to all his employees that gambling in stocks was taboo in his office. He stated that Mr. Prescott was one of his most valued department managers and he would not think for a moment that he could possibly disregard his wishes. (Copyright, 1923, NEA Service, Inc.)

Factory Delay Saves Taxpayers Almost $200

Dickinson, Oct. 8.—In the interests of economy the board of education last Wednesday ordered all slate removed from the unused rooms on the third floor of the Central school building and used in the new South Side grade school. The saving to the taxpayers on this one item will amount to approximately $200. The action of the board was precipitated by the delay of the manufacturers in furnishing the slate needed for immediate use in the new building and the contract was ordered cancelled.

Collection of U. S. Seed Loans Now Under Way

Grand Forks, Oct. 8.—Collection of outstanding government seed loans in the state of North Dakota is progressing satisfactorily and receipts at the local office, which had charge of all seed loans in this and adjoining states, has been increasing, according to J. W. Parks, manager of the federal seed loan office in Grand Forks.

These government seed loans, he pointed out, were due October 1, in this territory.

Although crop yields in some sections were low this year, the majority of the farmers, he said, give prompt attention to their loans and show their appreciation of the governmental assistance in supplying money with which to buy seed. Several, however, have asked for a few additional weeks in which to arrange settlement, as they wish to take advantage of the present favorable weather for the advancement of fall work on their farms, before marketing their produce.

At the present time field men are employed in the territory to receive payments from borrowers and in collecting evidence to be used later in cases where it appears that the government's rights under its liens and mortgages have been ignored by the borrowers, other creditors and grain buyers.

15 Per Cent of Dakota Wheat Grades As No. 1

Fargo, Oct. 8.—Fifteen percent of the 1923 wheat crop in North Dakota has a test weight equal to the No. 1 grade, 16 percent No. 2, 33 percent No. 3, 18 percent below No. 4, according to tests of 950 samples made by one of the largest line elevator concerns operating in the state and reported to C. E. Mangels, cereal chemist at the North Dakota Agricultural college. Only one percent of the wheat crop had an average test weight of 60 pounds or more.

The average local price for hard red spring wheat would be in the neighborhood of 90 cents per bushel, all grades considered, and for durum about 75 cents. Durum wheat occupies 38 percent of the spring wheat acreage of the state, according to estimates last spring by the U. S. bureau of crop estimates.

Tests of gluten content made by a number of the large milling and elevator concerns show figures that correspond very closely to those announced by the North Dakota experiment station several weeks ago, the average for the state being 13.3 percent.

KIWANIS

Kiwanis is an organization of vision, progressive, right-thinking,

broad-minded business and professional men. Its membership is formed by the careful and discriminating selection of the most representative men in their particular calling—men, who by virtue of their God given talents can be relied upon to cheerfully co-operate with their fellow members in actively supporting the Kiwanis movement in its steady, unflinching march toward the attainment of its high ideals.

Kiwanis is the practical application of the principle of the Golden Rule.

It is to our modern everyday life. The participation in its activities has a pronounced effect upon each and every one of its members from the time they are first initiated. It penetrates the veins and branches down into the real inner nature of the man. It appeals to his noblest impulses. It inspires self-confidence and reliance in one's ability to battle courageously and successfully in the cause of world-wide moral uplift. It develops the latent talents by its stirring appeal for efficiency. It harnesses the restive streams of nervous energy, directing this mighty force into useful and far-reaching channels. Through fellowship, acquaintance, friendship and association with a vast clearing house of ideas, plans and projects, is formed. From this melting pot of diversified energy, brains and experience, there pours molten metal of the purest gold, which flows freely where it is needed. As a mighty river rolls on in its majestic course toward the horizon, so does the Kiwanis expand in his capacity for rendering service to his fellow man. The further we proceed in our Kiwanis activities the more devoted we become to the great cause in which we have enlisted. As we cast our eyes about us, we witness the metamorphosis of a once self-sufficient, smugly satisfied professional man into an ardent and unselfish worker in child welfare campaigns; the evolution of an unsympathetic and apparently hardened man of affairs into a genuinely democratic and tireless volunteer in benevolent and charitable projects, and the transformation of a solitary and non-communicative scientist into a radiant personality of contagious good cheer and fellowship. It brings home to us, what the spirit of Kiwanis means to this busy world of today. As the years glide by we can see her circle of potentiality constantly expanding and her achievements pyramiding far aloft into the deep blue heavens. C. Pinkney Jones, Scranton, Pa.

KIWANIS CLUBS GROWTH TOLD

The first Kiwanis Club met in Detroit, Michigan, in 1915. At the end of the first year there were three clubs and 650 members. Three and one-half years later, at the time of the Birmingham Convention in 1919, there were 138 clubs with a membership of 15,590. In the three years from 1919 to 1922 over 650 clubs were added, so that when the International Convention was held in Toronto, in June, 1922, there were 802 Kiwanis Clubs in the United States and Canada, and 68,941 members.

The following statistics show the growth of the organization:

Year	Clubs	Members
Jan. 1, 1916	3	650
Jan. 1, 1917	38	3,700
Jan. 1, 1918	73	7,500
Jan. 1, 1919	120	13,000
Jan. 1, 1920	191	20,000
Jan. 1, 1921	367	38,447
Jan. 1, 1922	653	57,797
July 1, 1922	806	68,941
July 1, 1923	over 1,100	over 80,000

There are many of them in Bismarck. When they meet they call each other by their first names. They believe in doing things with a smile and occasionally with a song. They believe that if you know the other fellow you will like him. They play hard, work hard and trust in each other. They prefer not to criticize unless criticism will construct.

They are trying to make a success, not of business, but of life. They believe that only by employing the golden rule can mankind hasten the golden age. Their motto is "WE BUILD."

MANY DIE AS QUAKE SHOUTS SCARE CROWD

London Street Panic Occurs as Thieves Plan Raid on Pet Stalls

London, Oct. 8.—Shouts of "earthquake, earthquake" in a crowded street in the East End yesterday caused a stampede in which a number of people were trampled, hundreds of caged animals destroyed and miscellaneous property lost or stolen.

The scene was near Spital street, Bethnal Green, a noted center for the sale of domestic pets. Local dealers said that an auction was in progress when a band of toughs entered the throng and yelled "earthquake." The crowd fled while the stalls were overturned, the caged animals and birds which fell in the path of the mob suffered severely, many creatures being trampled to death and many persons killed. The Daily Mail says 40 persons were killed or injured and 100 dogs and cats and scores of poultry killed.

The dealers assert that the affair was an organized raid by thieves.

McKenzie Cattle Shipments Total Quarter Million

Dickinson, Oct. 8.—Ranchmen in the south and north pastures on the Berthold Indian reservation have made their annual cattle shipment, the former from Killdeer and the latter from Sanish. Ranchmen who have leases in the middle pasture expected to ship from Killdeer on October 4. It is said there will be about six train loads shipped from the reservation pastures aside from cattle shipped from Sanish by rail and shipped from farmers in the northeastern section of the county. A total of more than 4,000 head of beef steers will be included in the shipments. At a conservative estimate of $50 per head, these shipments will easily net McKenzie county ranchmen a quarter of a million dollars.

TELLS WHAT KIWANIS IS

KIWANIS is radio-activity of the soul. It is a spiritual element permeating human relationships. It is made up of emanations from man's better self.

Radium is a material force in the world of matter; KIWANIS is a moral force in the world of men. Radium defines many of the accepted laws of nature; KIWANIS breaks down the most stubborn barriers of distrust, reserve, unfriendliness.

Like radium, its energy is inexhaustible and its power irresistible. The more it expands the more it has to give. Both are concentrates, the products of a refining process which has but one object, the extraction of virtue and the elimination of dross.

KIWANIS represents ideas in evolution and ideals in practice. It is popularly held to be a business organization, but its mission much loftier, its aspirations infinitely greater than can be interpreted by any use of the word

"business." It is a body of business and professional men, rather, banded together for purposes of mutual aid and general uplift. It is not a religious organization, but it believes in God. It is not sectarian, but it believes in the church. It is not educational, but it believes in the school. It is not benevolent, but it believes in charity. It is not fraternal, but it believes in brotherhood. It is not political, but it believes in good government. KIWANIS cares nothing for tradition, but everything for truth. It delights to break precedent, but preserve principle. It hates familiarity, but fosters familiarity; not the familiarity that breeds contempt, but companionship. What it may lack in dignity it makes up in devotion. It is not interested in a man's purse but his personality. It concerns itself with a member's character, not his cash.

KIWANIS is international in scope, but passionately loyal to flag and country, city and state. It is composed of over eighty thousand every day, normal fellows in the United States and Canada who meet in their respective communities, to promote business ethics, encourage friendships, cooperate in the world better by improving civic betterment projects, create confidence and help make themselves first. They are not engaged in reform, but in polishing off their own rough edges on the wheel of fellowship and friendly personal contact.

"If Winter Comes" Opens For 3 Day Showing at Capitol

One of the most talked of popular novels of modern times, "If Winter Comes," has been made into a screen drama, and is to be shown for three days at the Capitol theatre commencing tonight. The cast is headed by Miss Ann Forrest and Percy Marmont, both of whom play the leading roles of the drama to perfection.

"Never before have I seen such beautiful locations photographed as Harry Millard used in 'If Winter Comes,'" declared Percy Marmont when he returned from England after 'the exterior of the screen version of the A. S. M. Hutchinson story were finished by William Fox.

"For outdoor scenes," continued the Mark Sabre of the cast, "we used several old Norman castles. The most impressive of these was Leeds Castle, in which King Henry VIII met Anne Boleyn. This historic palatial structure is one of the most beautiful in all England."

Mr. Marmont was in his element in England. Born there, he came to this country only a few years ago. His success on the American stage has been remarkable.

"It was very pleasant to go back and see the old country," he said "but the thing that struck me most over there was the number of casual acquaintances who spoke to me of the new picture and said that they expected a wonderful production. It seemed that everyone in the British Isles knows that William Fox was making the production of Hutchinson's novel."

The Elks Dining room will reopen for the season Tuesday evening, Oct. 9. Meals served daily, noon and evening.

Kiwanis Clubs Make Rapid Strides

national Kiwanis convention assembled in Detroit at the Statler hotel. It is recorded in the minutes of this convention that Kiwanis had grown to a combined membership of 4,763 and 76 clubs more, organized.

Growth of Kiwanis.

The growth of Kiwanis in the eight years since its inception has been marvelous. The first club was organized at Detroit, Michigan, in January, 1915. During the following year, two more clubs were established, one at Cleveland and the other at Pittsburgh. In the second year, thirty-five clubs were established and in the third year, thirty-five more clubs were added to the list, so that on January 1, 1918, there were seventy-three clubs. At the time of the Birmingham convention in 1919, there were 138 clubs with about 15,500 members. Two years later, at the time of the Cleveland convention in June, 1921, there were 533 clubs with a membership of 47,970. When the clubs convened at Toronto in June, 1922, there were 802 clubs and 68,101 members in the international organization. Today there are 1,076 clubs in the United States and Canada with a total membership of 82,061.

Kiwanian Ideals.

The motto, "We Build," clearly indicates the fundamental purpose of this club. If one were asked to further define the purpose and spirit of Kiwanis, he might answer:

"It is not a religious organization, but it believes in God."

"It is not sectarian, but it believes in the church."

"It is not educational, but it believes in the school."

"It is not benevolent, but it believes in charity."

"It is not fraternal, but it believes in brotherhood."

"It is not political, but it believes in government."

As an indication of the things with which Kiwanis concerns itself is the program of activities adopted at the last international convention. Here are its five planks:

1. To maintain a distinctive quality of membership and to give increased attention to Kiwanis education and standardization of clubs.
2. To emphasize and intensify the service of all Kiwanis clubs, in behalf of underprivileged children.
3. To continue, through Kiwanis clubs, to promote better relations between the farmer and the city man.
4. To develop aggressively toward Chambers of Commerce and other civic organization, a co-operative spirit and to encourage co-ordination of activities.
5. To foster a fuller realization of the responsibilities of patriotic citizenship.

MOTHER GIVES FACTS IN CASE OF HER DAUGHTER

That Tanlac is a wonderful medicine for children, as well as for those of mature years, is further emphasized in the case of little Bertha Przybilla, daughter of Mrs. Frank Przybilla, 355 Johnson st., N. E. Minneapolis, Minn.

"Last spring," states Mrs. Przybilla, "my little six year old girl lost her appetite, and did not care for meats, vegetables or anything else much. She had grown pale and nervous last winter, and I had to take her out of school. What she did eat disagreed with her, and she tired very easily. She was listless and inactive, complained of headaches and even lost interest in play.

"One bottle of Tanlac put her back in normal health so she eats ravenously, her headaches and nervousness are gone, she romps and plays with zest along with other healthy children, and promises to be in fine condition when school opens again."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

KIWANIS CLUB GETS CHARTER HERE TONIGHT

DISTRICT OFFICERS, KIWANIS FROM OTHER CITIES TO BE HERE FOR BANQUET AND PRESENTATION

Local Club, Composed of 60 Business and Professional Men of the State, to Have Auspicious Launching—Club Already Has Made Itself Felt in the Life of the City and Looks Forward to a Period of Great Service in the Community—Other Clubs in State Send Representatives Here for the Charter Presentation

The Kiwanis club of Bismarck, already out of its swaddling clothes, will bloom into full-fledged maturity tonight with the formal presentation of its charter by District Governor A. M. Packard in the presence of scores of Kiwanis guests from many cities.

The crowning event of the life of the club thus far in Bismarck is set for 7:30 p. m. at the McKenzie hotel tonight, the festivities opening with a banquet. The dinner today replaced the regular Monday noon luncheon of the organization.

Kiwanis got away to a flying start in Bismarck and bids fair to keep going at a rapid pace. With sixty representative business and professional men of the city enrolled, with clubs in all the leading cities of the state, the Northwest and clubs throughout the United States and in the larger cities of Canada, the Bismarck club is linked up with others in a program far-reaching effect.

"We Build" is the motto of Kiwanis—and the motto indicates the spirit of the organization—always looking to the future, seeking out constructive methods by which to bring the tenants of the clubs into full realization.

Launched in June Bismarck Kiwanis really started in June. On June 19 a luncheon was held in the Kiwanis room of the McKenzie hotel. There was present the same Kiwanis who make up the charter roll tonight, with very few exceptions. Walter C. Humpton of Chicago, who came into North Dakota to assist in the organization of Kiwanis clubs in several cities, was present. He outlined the program. Officers were elected and the organization was formally launched.

Officers of the Bismarck club are: President—Scott Cameron. Vice-President—John A. Graham. Secretary—Eric A. Thum. Treasurer—Spencer Boise. Directors—Scott Cameron, John A. Graham, Eric A. Thum, Walter C. Humpton, E. Birdzell, S. D. Dietz, Dr. W. E. Cole, Geo. B. Harris, Joseph Breslow, F. L. Moule, J. P. Sell.

A Kiwanis club is composed of representative business and professional men of the city in which it is located and according to its constitution may have not more than two members from any classification in business or profession in that city. Its object is to disseminate principles of fair dealing and practices and the observance of the "Golden Rule" in private, civic, social and business life. Through its weekly luncheon meetings a spirit of co-operation, good fellowship and fraternalism is developed among its members, while the science of business building and community development is part of its program.

Have Many Clubs All large cities in the United States and Canada, as well as many cities as small as 2,000 population, now have active Kiwanis clubs. Inter-city relationship exists between the members and it is stated that many community advantages have resulted from co-operation by local clubs and passed on to other cities.

"The members in a Kiwanis club," said Mr. Humpton at the time, "are limited by being restricted to definite business purposes, aims and ideals require that its membership stand for fair dealing, for service, for human fellowship and for the vital principles of the Golden Rule. Such men not only benefit each other by getting together once a week at lunch time, but they stand ready to aid Kiwanis community movement that looks to betterment. In other words, to use a modernized alliteration, it is an organization of men with purpose, pep, punch and personality, which is a real asset to the city."

Allow me to make it clear that the Kiwanis club in no way overlaps or duplicates the activities of the Association of Commerce, Rotary or Lions club, but on the contrary history in hundreds of cities shows that these organizations have proven essential to the progress of the community. Each body has its distinctive sphere of operations and in practically every city where they function these organizations act in harmony with each other.

After the organization by the election of officers the Kiwanis club committees were named. The full list of the committees follows: Attendance—Parkinson (c), Beck, Thorberg, Dresbach, Loberg, Hanson. Business & Methods—Corwin (c), Hanson, Smith, Runyon, Loberg. Classification—Lumry (c), Bowman, Dowell, Knowles. Education—Robertson, Johnson. Finance—Russ (c), Lenhart, Dietz, Aystrom, Sorenson. Grievance—Cox (c), Lenhart, Brandt, Myler. House—Dresbach (c), Smith, Bowman, Breslow, Myler, Wacker. Ladies Club—Birdzell (c), Cole, Graham, Murphy, Thorberg. Laws & Regulations—Janssonius

BISMARCK IN N. W. DISTRICT

Kiwanis Club Joined With Others in Minnesota and Dakotas in Organization

The Kiwanis club of Bismarck is in the Northwest district, or the district of Minnesota and the Dakotas.

Andrew E. Packard of Minneapolis is president. The Northwest district functions as an entity in its district organization and convention, the policy of dividing the country into districts making possible more intensive work on the international program within restricted areas.

North Dakota Kiwanis has had a rapid growth. There are clubs in Devils Lake, Jamestown, Fargo, Lisbon, Valley City, Grand Forks and Minot, and in addition the Bismarck and Mandan clubs which formally receive their charters this week. Carrington soon will receive a charter.

Fargo's Greeting

(Written Specially for the Bismarck Tribune) The Kiwanis Club of Fargo would like to be right out in the front rank of those who personally welcome the Bismarck club in its official entry into Kiwanis. Distance makes our absence imperative, yet we shall be there in full force in the spirit and enthusiasm of our greeting.

The ideals of Kiwanis translated into action in the daily dealings of the men of North Dakota, could not avoid being a potent factor in the upbuilding that is to occur in the years ahead, and Fargo knows that Bismarck will not lag in the practical application of the workable ambitions of Kiwanis everywhere. We hope and predict that our two clubs—in concert with all others in North Dakota—will not be mere isolated centers of useful endeavor, but will make contact with each other frequently, for the furtherance of friendly feeling among the cities, and for the advancement in friendship among our citizens—to their greater prosperity and happiness. Kiwanis Club of Fargo, J. A. Pierce, President.

GREETING

International President, Edmund F. Arras.
(TO KIWANIS CONVENTION)

Standing as we do today, upon the eminence of seven years of service and achievement, we can look back over the way we have come and evaluate, with greater appreciation, the laborers of the pioneer days of Kiwanis.

The present structure stands as an incomparable monument, to the untiring amalgamation of service and fellowship, which reflects glory upon the officers whom you, at Atlanta, honored with the trust and responsibility of directing the leviathan Kiwanis, upon the voyage of the current year.

The knowledge that thousands of Kiwanians join in the pleasure of the honor which has come to us, making our gratitude even greater. With honor comes responsibility, equaled only by the dynamic strength and wisdom, which comes from the assurance of an unbroken line of eighty thousand co-operating Kiwanians.

Upon the foundation of our Golden Rule philosophy, we build a distinctive membership in the belief that Clubs, Districts and International are like individuals, subject to God's immutable moral laws, and that we can achieve worthy honors and true greatness only through honest dealing and unselfish service.

The covenant of the past is entrusted to us in memoriam, that we may keep it in safety and with added honors pass it on to those of the future, who will render a greater service and share added glory.

May we have your esteem and prayers that by deeds we shall demonstrate our gratitude, rather than by the pauperism of words.

PRESIDENT OF KIWANIS CLUBS HAS MANY ACHIEVEMENTS TO HIS CREDIT

Edmund F. Arras, of Columbus, Ohio, newly elected President of Kiwanis International, conducts the largest agency in Ohio, devoted exclusively to the management of improved property, and has achieved national prominence in that field.

Mr. Arras is a veteran in Kiwanis service, as he joined the Kiwanis Club of Columbus in 1916, before the club had received its charter. In a short time he was elected director which position he still holds, as the constitution of the Columbus club was especially amended so that he will do so as long as he occupies a district or international office.

In 1918, he was elected lieutenant-governor of the Ohio District, and governor in 1919. Following this he served as trustee of his district. At the Portland convention, Mr. Arras was elected international trustee, and during his three years in that office, he served two years as a member of the international finance committee, two years as a member of the international program committee, and one year as member of the executive committee.

At the Atlanta convention, May 1923, he was elected to the highest office in the gift of Kiwanis International by a vote of two to one, which later was made unanimous. Mr. Arras was born in 1875 and is a descendant of pioneer Ohio families. After his preparatory education in the schools of Dayton and Columbus, he acted as private secretary to Judge E. P. Evans, who for twenty-five years was judge of the common pleas court. Then, in order to work his way through Ohio State University, Mr. Arras began the management of rental property. He graduated from the law school in 1895, and was admitted to the Ohio bar in the following year, on his twenty-first birthday. While attending the law, he was a member of the Columbus Automobile Club, the Columbus Athletic Club, the Aladdin Country Club, the State and National Realtors Associations, the Building Managers Association, is chairman of the executive committee of the Ohio State Sunday School Association, member of the Columbus Council of Churches, president of the Adult Bible Class Association of Ohio, member of the Franklin Bar Association, the Ohio State University Alumni Association, the Shrine Club of Columbus, member of all branches of Masonry, including the Grotes and Shrine.

Kiwanis Calls You

Kiwanians, you all are summoned; hasten and take your stand; For prompt unselfish service, that awaits you on every hand. "We Build" shall ever denote action in the truest sense of the word; It leads us in true endeavor, it will ever point the way.

No hope of gain should lead you, but a desire to freely give; To make better the lives of others, to help some other life. Come on and build together, let us follow the one great plan; For which we are given a part, in this work for our fellowman.

Then the Golden Rule we lift on high, for all the world to see; It is not for others alone; It will work with you and me. We try and do for others, as we would have them do us in turn; We carry out God's plan in part; when we all base methods upon.

The gospel of the Square Deal; we must live as well as preach; A man should always practice, what he tries to teach. Too much of our past endeavor, has been based upon selfish greed; The use of this Square Deal gospel, is now everywhere in need.

In Boy Scout work be busy, for crippled children do your share; For the needy of the World War, some help you will prepare. Have an interest in your city, love for home and this great land; Do not always wait to follow others; be a leader in our band.

Each obstacle that you surmount, will but broaden out your sight; You must live some other up, lead them forward into light. Then when that other summons comes; that you must travel West; Your life will not have been in vain; for others you have bled. —Orville O. Davis, The Utica Kiwanis Club.

Governor

ANDREW E. PACKARD

Kiwanis is governed in its Northwest district by Andrew E. Packard of Minneapolis. His domain includes Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota. He works hard, plays hard and is known to all Kiwanians as "Andy."

VALLEY CITY KIWANIS HEAD IN GREETING

Urges Local Club to Live Up To the Tenants of the Organization

(Written especially for the Tribune.)

To the officers and members of the Bismarck Kiwanis club, the Valley City Kiwanis club adds its congratulations on the event of your charter presentation. We are highly pleased that our organization will be represented in your fair city. You have our best wishes for your continued success. It is said that Kiwanis is a conscious driving force toward the higher objectives, built upon the action of the Mount and we of Valley City feel sure these objectives will be kept in view and the golden rule will be exemplified by the lives of your members. May your club in a large way become an important factor in the upbuilding of your community; builders of character, courage, loyalty, integrity, self respect and a sense of responsibility, taking advantage of your opportunities for service in a truly Kiwanis manner.

KIWANIS PHILOSOPHY When a bit of sunshine hits ye, After passing of a cloud, When a fit of laughter gits ye, An' your spine is feelin' proud, Don't forget to up and fling it At a soul that's feelin' blue, For the minut that ye sling it, It's a boomerang to you. —Phillipsburg, N. J.

Clubs Now Are Found Throughout Nation and Canada

PROGRESS REMARKABLE

Over 1,000 Clubs Are To Be Found, All Working on Same Program

On January 21, 1915, the first officially recorded meeting of a Kiwanis club was held in the city of Detroit. Today, eight years and a half later, Kiwanis is an international body with over 1,000 clubs.

The Kiwanis club International has spread from the territorial limits of one city to that of the entire northern half of the western hemisphere. Its membership has grown from the leading citizens of one city to over 82,000 of the leading business and professional men of all Canada and the United States.

When came Kiwanis? This question has been propounded again and again and many have been the vague confused and loose responses to the query. That it was founded in Detroit is a conceded fact, but what were the circumstances of its organization and what of its early struggles?

In the late spring of 1914 Mr. Allen S. Browne was an organizer for a newly conceived fraternal order in Detroit and in the course of his work about this time made the acquaintance of Mr. J. G. France. They failed in the first attempt at organization. Then Mr. France suggested a club composed of business and professional men only, but without the fraternal features. Several meetings were held in November, at which its formation was discussed, and about the first of December the new project was hopefully launched. The membership fee was set at $5.00. The first applicants for membership were given a receipt. A name for the club had not been adopted.

The first Kiwanians. At present there are five members of the Detroit Kiwanis club who hold these receipts: Joseph G. France (dated December 8, 1914), who is acknowledged as the first Kiwanian; Donald A. Johnston, Governor of the Michigan District; Harry A. Young, present secretary of the Detroit club; Charles Cowdin, and James Martineau.

The basic principles of the new club were the development of a close fellowship among its members, both in social and business activities, and active co-operation for civic improvement. The motive of the club was the highest order and with the sincerity and the spirit manifested by the leaders, those who gathered at the early meetings subconsciously felt that their organization was destined to become a potent force and factor in Detroit. Thus was spun the first fine thread of the organization of today, thread of an enduring texture which later wove itself into the magnificent fabric of Kiwanis International. While born of the spirit, as yet it was unnamed.

Name Selected. The naming of the club properly to typify its principles were seriously considered. Mr. Browne approached Mr. C. M. Burton, historian of Detroit and Michigan, with his problem. Mr. Burton consulted the library of the Burton Historical collection and among several Indian words submitted was "Kee-wan-is." The word was found in the Indian vocabulary compiled by Bishop Frederic Baraga, early pioneer of Upper Michigan, one of the world's most eminent students of Indian literature. It is understood that because of the limitations of the Indian Vocabulary, its words had a broad meaning and that in the use of "Kee-wan-is" in its original intent it was taken to mean "To make oneself known; to impress."

The spelling was changed to Kiwanis with the first syllable pronounced as "kee." Early in February, 1915 several of the members suggested that meetings should be held at night in order to keep the evenings open for their family obligations. This suggestion was adopted and ratified.

Idea Spread. The Kiwanis idea soon spread to other cities and many clubs were organized. In October of 1915 at Cleveland the matter of the incorporation of a parent Kiwanis organization, with authority to issue charters to clubs in other cities, was first mentioned. September 15, 1915, the charter was granted by the state of Ohio. In April of 1916 the organization was rapidly growing and had attained a substantial membership. The time seemed appropriate for the formation into cohesive whole under a permanent national organization. Invitations were dispatched to the existing clubs to send delegates to a conference to be held in Cleveland, and fifteen clubs responded. The conference of delegates from the different clubs assembled at the Colonial hotel in Cleveland on May 12, 1916. A national constitution was proposed and immediately adopted. On May 8, 1917, the first International Convention was held in Minneapolis. (Continued on Page Nine)

Social and Personal

First Step Toward Organization of Girl Scouts Taken

The first step toward giving the girls of the city of Bismarck the same careful direction in their activities as the boys of the city have as a result of the Rotary club was taken Saturday afternoon when the subject of the starting of a "Girl Scouts" organization for Bismarck was presented by Miss Mary Cashel, social worker, at the meeting of the Women's Community Council.

As a result of requests sent to Miss Cashel the "Edith Cavell Scout Troop" of the Episcopal church will be reorganized in conformity with the National Girls' Scouts organization. The Woman's Community Council has been asked to foster the girls' organization and will give their reply at the next meeting.

Miss Cashel is a national Girl Scout councilor; has taken an active part in the organization of the girls in southern Illinois and Indiana previous to coming to Bismarck, and has consented to take charge of the organization work in Bismarck if the women of the city will stand behind the organization in the same manner as the Rotary club has behind the boys of the city.

In the open discussion the women were unanimous in their approval of the development of a girls organization of some kind—an organization by means of which the leisure hours of the girls between ages of 10 and 18 years will be profitably occupied by means of scientific play, and work.

In presenting the subject Miss Cashel said that the development of scouting for girls was logical since fundamentals for such a movement had already been worked out by experts and placed upon a national basis.

"The aims of the Girl Scouts is effective and happy citizenship," said Miss Cashel in opening. "This leads to the participation of the girls in country life and in the right use of their leisure hours since the three main interests of the Girl Scouts are: 1. Home. 2. Health. 3. Citizenship."

"One of the main purposes of the Girl Scouts organization is to give to its members essential information in these fields, to develop lines of service and healthy living," said Miss Cashel.

This is much easier to accomplish since the Girl Scouts has at its head such women as Mrs. Herbert Hoover, president of the national organization for Girl Scouts, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, Mrs. Warren G. Harding, and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, honorary vice presidents, the speaker declared. Since its organization in 1915 in the District of Columbia it has spread to 25 communities over the United States and has a membership of more than 300,000 girls.

The motto of the organization is: "Be prepared" and the slogan: "Do a good turn daily." The pledge given by girls upon becoming members is: "I will try to do my duty to God and my country. To help other people at all times. To obey the scout laws."

Reports from the various committees in charge of the ticket sale for the Midland Lyceum Bureau, the first number of which is a lecture by Dr. Francis on "One Hundred Per Cent Americanism" will be given at the Presbyterian church, Friday, Oct. 12. The ladies reported that the sale of tickets had gone well and that a large crowd was expected at the opening meeting.

APRON TUNICS FROM PARIS REACH POPULARITY HERE

American designers unite this season in saying "there's nothing new in Paris," but they also unite in saying there are many styles that are delightfully smart and adaptable.

Here are two variations of the vogue for apron tunics which was introduced in the spring in Paris and is just now reaching its greatest popularity here. As the style is still good in France these models are doubly recommended.

CARS DAMAGED PEOPLE ESCAPE IN ACCIDENTS

Several Motor Car Accidents Reported in Bismarck and Mandan Over Week-End

Automobiles belonging to Ole Tyberg of Began and Emil Elness of Bismarck collided at Rosser and Mandan. The Tyberg car was going east on Rosser and the Elness car south on Mandan.

Mr. Elness had with him his family. The Tyberg car struck the rear end of the Elness car, according to Mrs. Elness. She grabbed two small children and prevented them from being thrown out of the car, one of them, Blanche, aged eight, being partly out of the car when Mrs. Elness caught her. Stella Elness, 11 years old, complained today of injuries to her head.

Automobile driven by Roy Knuts and Alfred Sakariassen collided on the Mandan road. Both cars were badly damaged. The former's car, an Essex, had the front wheels badly smashed and the Chevrolet car driven by Sakariassen also was damaged.

Saturday night Frank Dowd and V. P. Peterson of Mandan got lost nine miles south of Steele and drove into a farmer's yard. Their car collided with a haystack and turned over. Shotgun shells in the rear of the car exploded. After much effort the fire was extinguished.

A new Buick car was seen between Bismarck and Mandan with one wheel smashed. An old Maxwell car is hanging on the side of the Flasher road about three miles south of Mandan. The owner is not known.

Lee Nelhart, 15, Mandan, suffered a sprained wrist when another car, driven by an unknown driver, struck a car he was driving at Ninth avenue and First street Northwest, Mandan, Saturday night.

Methods of Fire Prevention Reviewed At Lions Luncheon

The subject of fire prevention was discussed at the noon day luncheon of the Lions club today at the Grand Pacific hotel by S. A. Olness, state insurance commissioner and George Shafer, attorney general. Mr. Olness compared fire losses in the United States with those in England and Germany, showing by statistics that losses in this country were far in excess of those in Europe. Mr. Olness explained the subject and urged certain measures for the prevention of fire losses. Mr. Shafer declared that if the insured person had to stand a certain percentage of the loss from a fire and could insure for only about 75 per cent of the value of his property losses could be materially reduced.

A committee of ten were named by the Lions to aid in the Salvation Army drive with Ober A. Olson as chairman.

Bonham Brothers Optometrists

THE WORK OF THE Optometrist comprises but two duties—the detection of a given error of vision and its correction. But if he discovers (as he often does) a condition requiring medical or surgical attention, he may advise accordingly.

Being relatively a new profession, Optometry is naturally not appreciated by the public as it deserves to be. Millions of people are constantly in need of the services of the Optometrist. They possess errors of vision that should receive attention, and in many cases these people are not aware of their deficiency.

That indicates the value of Optometry, as we are speaking only of defects of vision that the Optometrist is competent to correct. To be continued next Thursday.

KIWANIS CLUBS GROWTH TOLD

The first Kiwanis Club met in Detroit, Michigan, in 1915. At the end of the first year there were three clubs and 650 members. Three and one-half years later, at the time of the Birmingham Convention in 1919, there were 138 clubs with a membership of 15,500. In the three years from 1919 to 1922 over 600 clubs were added, so that when the International Convention was held in Toronto, in June, 1922, there were 802 Kiwanis Clubs in the United States and Canada, and 68,441 members.

The following statistics show the growth of the organization:

Clubs	Members
Jan. 1, 1916	3
Jan. 1, 1917	38
Jan. 1, 1918	73
Jan. 1, 1919	130
Jan. 1, 1920	191
Jan. 1, 1921	367

There are many of them in Bismarck. When they meet they call each other by their first names. They believe in doing things with a smile and occasionally with a song. They believe that if you know the other fellow you will like him. They play hard, work hard and trust in each other. They prefer not to criticize unless criticism will construct.

They are trying to make a success, not of business, but of life. They believe that only by employing the golden rule can mankind hasten the golden age. Their motto is "WE BUILD."

London Street Panic Occurs as Thieves Plan Raid on Pet Stalks

London, Oct. 8.—Shouts of "earthquake, earthquake" in a crowded street in the East End yesterday caused a stampede in which a number of people were trampled, hundreds of cages animals destroyed and miscellaneous property lost or stolen.

The scene was near Spital street, Bethnal Green, a noted center for the sale of domestic pets. Local dealers said that an auction was in progress when a band of toughs entered the throng and yelled "earthquake." The crowd fled while the stalls were overthrown. The cages animals and birds which fell in the path of the mob suffered severely.

many creatures being trampled to death and many persons killed. The Daily Mail says 60 persons were killed or injured and 100 dogs and cats and scores of poultry killed.

The dealers assert that the affair was an organized raid by thieves.

McKenzie Cattle Shipments Total Quarter Million

Dickinson, Oct. 8.—Ranchmen in the south and north pastures on the Berthold Indian reservation have made their annual cattle shipments, the former from Killdeer and the latter from Sanish. Ranchmen who have leases in the middle pasture expected to ship from Killdeer on October 4. It is said there will be about six train loads shipped from the reservation pastures aside from cattle shipped from Sanish by ranchment and farmers in the northeastern section of the county. A total of more than 4,000 head of beef steers will be included in the shipments. At a conservative estimate of $50 per head, these shipments will easily net McKenzie county ranchmen a quarter of a million dollars.

TELLS WHAT KIWANIS IS

KIWANIS is radio-activity of the soul. It is a spiritual element permeating human relationships. It is made up of emanations from man's better self.

Radium is a material force in the world of matter; KIWANIS is a moral force in the world of men. Radium defies many of the accepted laws of nature; KIWANIS breaks down the most stubborn barriers of distrust, reserve, unfriendliness.

Like radium, its energy is inexhaustible and its power irresistible. The more it expands the more it has to give. Both are concentrates, the products of a refining process, which has but one object, the extraction of virtue and the elimination of dross.

KIWANIS represents ideas in evolution and ideals in practice. It is popularly held to be a business organization, but its mission much loftier, its aspirations infinitely greater than can be interpreted by any use of the word

"business." It is a body of business and professional men, rather, banded together for purposes of mutual and general uplift. It is not a religious organization, but it believes in God. It is not sectarian, but it believes in the church. It is not educational, but it believes in the school. It is not benevolent, but it believes in charity. It is not fraternal, but it believes in brotherhood. It is not political, but it believes in good government. KIWANIS cares nothing for tradition, but everything for truth. It delights to break precedent, but preserve principle. It hates familiarity, but fosters familiarity; not the familiarity that breeds contempt, but companionship. What it may lack in dignity it makes up in devotion. It is not interested in a man's purse but his personality. It concerns itself with a member's character, not his cash.

KIWANIS is international in scope, but passionately loyal to flag and country, city and state. It is composed of over eighty thousands everyday, normal fellows in the United States and Canada who meet in their respective communities, to promote business ethics, encourage friendships, cooperate in the world better by improving civic betterment projects, create confidence and help make themselves first. They are not engaged in reform, but in polishing off their own rough edges on the wheel of fellowship and friendly personal contact.

KIWANIS

Kiwanis is an organization of virile, progressive, right-thinking,

broad-minded business and professional men. Its membership is formed by the careful and discriminating selection of the most representative men in their particular calling—men, who by virtue of their God given talents can be relied upon to cheerfully co-operate with their fellow members in actively supporting the Kiwanis movement in its steady, unflinching march toward the attainment of its high ideals.

Kiwanis is the practical application of the principle of the Golden rule to our modern everyday life. The participation in its activities has a pronounced effect upon each and every one of its members from the time they are first initiated. It penetrates the very inner nature of the man. It appeals to his noblest impulses. It inspires self-confidence and reliance in one's ability to battle courageously and successfully in the cause of world-wide moral uplift. It develops the latent talents by its stirring appeal for efficiency. It harnesses the restive streams of nervous energy, directing this mighty force into useful and far-reaching channels. Through fellowship, acquaintance, friendship and association, with a vast clearing house of ideas, plans and projects, is formed. From this melting pot of diversified energy, brains and experience, there pours molten metal of the purest gold, which flows freely where it is needed. As a mighty river rolls on in its majestic course toward the boundless ocean, so does the Kiwanian expand in his capacity for rendering service to his fellow man. The further we proceed in our Kiwanian activities the more devoted we become to the great cause in which we have enlisted. As we cast our eyes about us, we witness the metamorphosis of a once self-sufficient, smugly satisfied professional man into an ardent and unselfish worker in child welfare campaigns; the evolution of an unsympathetic and apparently hardened man of affairs into a genuinely democratic and tireless toll-er in benevolent and charitable projects, and the transformation of a solitary and non-communicative scientist into a radiant personality of contagious good cheer and fellowship. It brings home to us, what the spirit of Kiwanis means to this busy world of today. As the years glide by we can see her circle of potentiality constantly expanding, and her achievements pyramiding far aloft into the deep blue heavens. C. Pinkney Jones, Scranton, Pa.

First Step Toward Organization of Girl Scouts Taken

The first step toward giving the girls of the city of Bismarck the same careful direction in their activities as the boys of the city have as a result of the Rotary club was taken Saturday afternoon when the subject of the starting of a "Girl Scouts" organization for Bismarck was presented by Miss Mary Cashel, social worker, at the meeting of the Women's Community Council.

As a result of requests sent to Miss Cashel the Episcopal church will be reorganized in conformity with the National Girls' Scouts organization. The Women's Community Council has been asked to foster the girls' organization. They have taken matter under advisement and will give their reply at the next meeting.

Miss Cashel is a national Girl Scout counselor; has taken an active part in the organization of the girls in southern Illinois and Indiana previous to coming to Bismarck, and has consented to take charge of the organization work in Bismarck if the women of the city will stand behind the organization in the same manner as the Rotary club has behind the boys of the city.

In the open discussion the women were unanimous in their approval of the development of a girls' organization of some kind—an organization by means of which the leisure hours of the girls between ages of 10 and 18 years will be profitably occupied by means of scientific play, and work.

In presenting the subject Miss Cashel said that the development of scouting for girls was logical since fundamentals for such a movement had already been worked out by experts and placed upon a national basis.

"The aims of the Girl Scouts is effective and happy citizenship," said Miss Cashel in opening. "This leads to the participation of the girls in country life and in the right use of their leisure hours since the three main interests of the Girl Scouts are: 1. Home. 2. Health. 3. Citizenship."

"One of the main purposes of the Girl Scouts organization is to give to its members essential information in these fields, to develop lines of service and healthy living," said Miss Cashel.

This is much easier to accomplish since the Girl Scouts has at its head such women as Mrs. Herbert Hoover, president of the national organization for Girl Scouts, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, Mrs. Warren G. Harding, and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, honorary vice presidents, the speaker declared. Since its organization in 1915 in the District of Columbia it has spread to 2,500 communities over the United States and has a membership of more than 300,000 girls.

The motto of the organization is: "Be prepared" and the slogan: "Do a good turn daily." The pledge given by girls upon becoming members is: "I will try to do my duty to God and my country. To help other people at all times. To obey the scout laws."

Reports from the various committees in charge of the ticket sale for the Midland Lyceum Bureau, the first number of which a lecture by Dr. Francis on "One Hundred Per Cent Americanism" will be given at the Presbyterian church, Friday, Oct. 12. The ladies reported that the sale of tickets had gone well and that a large crowd was expected at the opening meeting.

APRON TUNICS FROM PARIS REACH POPULARITY HERE

American designers unite this season in saying "there's nothing new in Paris," but they also unite in saying there are many styles that are delightfully smart and adaptable.

Here are two variations of the vogue for apron tunics which was introduced in the spring in Paris and is just now reaching its greatest popularity here. As the style is still good in France these models are doubly recommended.

CARS DAMAGED PEOPLE ESCAPE IN ACCIDENTS

Several Motor Car Accidents Reported in Bismarck and Mandan Over Week-End

Automobiles belonging to Ole Tyberk of Regan and Emil Elness of Bismarck collided at Rosser and Mandan. The Tyberg car was going east on Rosser and the Elness car south on Mandan.

Mr. Elness had with him his family. The Tyberg car struck the rear end of the Elness car, according to Mrs. Elness. She grabbed two small children and prevented them from being thrown out of the car, one of them, Blanche, aged eight, being partly out of the car when Mrs. Elness caught her. Stella Elness, 11 years old, complained today of injuries to her side.

An automobile driven by Roy Koontz and Alfred Sakariassen collided on the Mandan road. Both cars were badly damaged. The former's car, an Essex, had the front wheels badly smashed and the Chevrolet car driven by Sakariassen also was damaged.

Saturday night Frank Dowd and V. P. Peterson of Mandan got lost nine miles south of Steele and drove into a farmer's yard. Their car collided with a hayrack and turned over. Shotgun shells in the rear of the car exploded. Aftel much effort the fire was extinguished.

A new Buick car was seen between Bismarck and Mandan with one wheel smashed. An old Maxwell car is hanging on the side of the Flasher road about three miles south of Mandan. The owner is not known.

Lee Neihart, 15, Mandan, suffered a sprained wrist when another car, driven by an unknown driver, struck a car he was driving at Ninth avenue and First street Northwest, Mandan, Saturday night.

Methods of Fire Prevention Reviewed At Lions Luncheon

The subject of fire prevention was discussed at the noon day luncheon of the Lions club today at the Grand Pacific hotel by S. A. Olness, state insurance commissioner and George Shafer, attorney general.

Mr. Olness compared fire losses in the United States with those in England and Germany, showing by statistics that losses in this country were far in excess of those in Europe. Mr. Olness explained the subject and urged certain measures for the prevention of fire losses. Mr. Shafer declared that if the insured person had to stand a certain percentage of the loss from a fire and could insure for only about 75 per cent of the value of his property losses could be materially reduced.

A committee of ten were named by the Lions to aid in the Salvation Army drive with Overt A. Olson as chairman.

THE WORK OF THE Optometrist comprises but two duties—the detection of a given error of vision and its correction. But if he discovers (as he often does) a condition requiring medical or surgical attention, he may advise accordingly.

Being relatively a new profession, Optometry is naturally not appreciated by the public as it deserves to be. Millions of people are constantly in need of the services of the Optometrist. They possess errors of vision that should receive attention, and in many cases these people are not aware of their deficiency.

That indicates the value of Optometry, as we are speaking only of defects of vision that the Optometrist is competent to correct. To be continued next Thursday.

"If Winter Comes" Opens For 3 Day Showing at Capitol

One of the most talked of popular novels of modern times, "If Winter Comes," has been made into a screen drama, and is to be shown for three days at the Capitol theater commencing tonight. The cast is headed by Miss Ann Forrest and Percy Marmont, both of whom play the leading roles of the drama to perfection.

"Never before have I seen such beautiful locations photographed as Harry Millard used in 'If Winter Comes,'" declared Percy Marmont when he returned from England after the exteriors of the screen version of the A. S. M. Hutchinson story were finished by William Fox.

"For outdoor scenes," continued the Mark Sabre of the cast, "we used several old Norman castles. The most impressive of these was Leeds Castle, in which King Henry VIII, met Anne Boleyn. This historic palatial structure is one of the most beautiful in all England."

Mr. Marmont was in his element in England. Born there, he came to this country only a few years ago. His success on the American stage has been remarkable.

"It was very pleasant to go back and see the old country," he said "but the thing that struck me most over there was the number of casual acquaintances who spoke to me of the new picture and said that they expected a wonderful production. It seemed that everyone in the British Isles knows that William Fox was making the production of Hutchinson's novel."

The Elks Dining room will reopen for the season Tuesday evening, Oct. 9. Meals served daily, noon and evening.

national Kiwanis convention assembled in Detroit at the Statler hotel. It is recorded in the minutes of this convention that Kiwanis had grown to a combined membership of 7,785 and 76 clubs were organized.

Growth of Kiwanis

The growth of Kiwanis in the eight years since its inception has been marvelous. The first club was organized at Detroit, Michigan, in January, 1915. During the following year, two more clubs were established, one at Cleveland and the other at Pittsburgh. In the second year thirty-five clubs were established and in the third year, thirty-five more clubs were added to the list, so that on January 1, 1918, there were seventy-three clubs. At the time of the Birmingham convention in 1919, there were 138 clubs with about 15,500 members. Two years later, at the time of the Cleveland convention in June, 1921, there were 533 clubs with a membership of 47,970. When the clubs convened at Toronto in June, 1922, there were 802 clubs and 68,101 members in the International organization. Today there are 1,076 clubs in the United States and Canada with a total membership of 82,061.

Kiwanian Ideals

The motto, "We Build," clearly indicates the fundamental purpose of this club. If one were asked to further define the purpose and spirit of Kiwanis, he might answer:

"It is not a religious organization, but it believes in God."

"It is not sectarian, but it believes in the church."

"It is not educational, but it believes in the school."

"It is not benevolent, but it believes in charity."

"It is not fraternal, but it believes in brotherhood."

"It is not political, but it believes in government."

As an indication of the things with which Kiwanis concerns itself is the program of activities adopted at the last international convention. Here are its five planks.

1. To maintain a distinctive quality of membership and to give increased attention to Kiwanis education and standardization of clubs.

2. To emphasize and intensify the service of all Kiwanis clubs, in behalf of under-privileged children.

3. To continue, through Kiwanis clubs, to promote better relations between the farmer and the city man.

4. To develop aggressively toward Chambers of Commerce and other civic organizations, a co-operative spirit and to encourage co-ordination of activities.

5. To foster a fuller realization of the responsibilities of patriotic citizenship.

MOTHER GIVES FACTS IN CASE OF HER DAUGHTER

That Tanlac is a wonderful medicine for children, as well as for those of mature years, is further emphasized in the case of little Bertha Przybilla, daughter of Mrs. Frank Przybilla, 355 Johnson st., N. E. Minneapolis, Minn.

"Last spring," states Mrs. Przybilla, "my little six year old girl lost her appetite, and did not care for meats, vegetables or anything else much. She had grown pale and nervous last winter, and I had to take her out of school. What she did eat disagreed with her, and she tired very easily. She was listless and inactive, complained of headaches and even lost interest in play.

"One bottle of Tanlac put her back in normal health so she eats ravenously, her headaches and nervousness are gone, she romps and plays with zest along with other healthy children, and promises to be in fine condition when school opens again."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Can a Woman

Hold a Husband
And Still Be a Home-Maker?

This woman wore a kitchen apron oftener than any other garb and her pies were a delight. But—Her husband and daughters were ashamed of her as behind the times. She stepped out into a new world, full of honors and appreciation. As she climbed her family slipped into disaster. Then she sacrificed her ideals and ambitions to again become the home-builder.

The Kiwanis Club is a Service Club

Its Motto

"We Build"

Congratulations Kiwanians

It is a great pleasure and a personal privilege as president of the City Commission of Bismarck to extend greetings to the Bismarck Kiwanis upon the occasion of their initiation into a great organization of community workers.

Kiwanis is an instrumentality in the improvement of the individual, the upbuilding of the community and the promotion of good will between men and nations.

I am happy to be able to testify from personal contact with and observation of Kiwanis here in my own community that it is a substantial community asset and I rejoice with all fellow Kiwanians upon this occasion.

A. P. LENHART,
President Bismarck City Commission.

Bismarck Now on Kiwanis Map

Kiwanis is an infant organization if measured merely in terms of years, but it is big in service, dedicated to a most impressive program and committed to a philosophy that has impressed itself upon the consciousness of the public as has few other organizations.

Upon this occasion when the local club is to receive its charter and be formally a part of a world wide movement, as president I desire to welcome visiting Kiwanians who are here to start us officially along the Kiwanian highway of community service.

Kiwanis is pledged to promote the best in the city and state endeavors and to inculcate those ideals in which this great nation was conceived. Its constant aim in Bismarck will be to impress upon its members the necessity to build right upon the foundations of ethical conduct and personal service.

SCOTT CAMERON,
President Bismarck Kiwanis.

What Kiwanis Means to Entire Community of Bismarck

Its constant endeavor to impress upon its members the need and the value of ethical conduct in their business and their profession is one of its greatest contributions to society. Such clubs have limited memberships and make their selections from the various and varied vocations in their community. The average club is thus truly representative of the commercial life of its particular territory. The man chosen to represent a given activity is taught that his duty has not ended when he has introduced into his own business or practice the ideals of service, honor and honesty. He must be an ambassador back to others engaged in his field of endeavor and lend his active influence to elevating the ethics and standards of all commercial intercourse. In its plainest definition, this phase of the program of the service club is but a practical application of the principle laid down in the Golden Rule many generations ago.

Properly speaking the Kiwanis Club or any of its kind records its greatest accomplishments within the man who is the member. Its fellowship warms him and wins him away from the cold, unsympathetic atmosphere which a self-centered business career generates. It renews his youth, reanimates him with the high impulses which were his when young, breeds anew in him a faith in the efficacy of high ideals, broadens his vision by lifting his eyes and teaches him a true conception of the real values of life. It must then be something like a religion, you say? It has been called just that. At least it is a fine, understandable, workable philosophy and one which cannot but benefit the community in which it is preached and practiced.
